DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 3-6 and 9 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,728,466. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 3,5-6 and 9 of the present application are broader than claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,728,466. Since the subject matter of claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,728,466 encompass the subject matter of claims 3,5-6 and 9 of the present application, claims 3,5-6 and 9 are anticipated by claims 1-4 U.S. Patent No. 6,728,466 and therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify and edit claims 1-4 to produce claims 3,5-6 and 9 of the present application.

The “first key information” and “second key information” recited in claims 3,5-6 and 9 of the present application can be read on the “recording time” and “designation time” recited in claims 1-4 U.S. Patent No. 6,728,466

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ito et al (5696576).

Regarding claim 1, Ito disclose an image processing apparatus (Fig. 4) capable of accessing a recording medium on which has been recorded image data representing a plurality of images, comprising:

an ordered-image designating device for designating an ordered image to be printed from among images represented by image data that has been stored on the recording medium; and an ordering information storage device for storing, in association with the ordered image, ordering information for the ordered image designated by said ordered-image designating device, and key information for verifying the ordered image (column 12, lines 35-68, column 16, lines 20-25).

Method claim 7 corresponds to apparatus claim 1. Therefore method claim 7 is rejected by the same reason as applied to apparatus claim 1.

Regarding claims 2 and 8, Ito discloses the key information is at least one of partial image data representing part of the ordered image, a checksum of the ordered image, data representing the time at which the image data representing the ordered image was recorded on the recording medium, and data representing a random number generated at recording of the ordered image (column 12, lines 35-68, column 16, lines 20-25).
